

Call for Workshop Proposals

54th Annual Conference

October 18-20, 2023

Trumbull Marriott Shelton, Trumbull, Connecticut

(The call for conference presentation proposals will be released in April)

As a regional affiliate of the American Educational Research Association, NERA invites proposals for workshops for our annual meeting that appeal to quantitative/measurement researchers, qualitative researchers, graduate students, and educators as researchers. We welcome proposals from current NERA members as well as non-NERA members. This year's conference theme is:

“Where do we go from here? Shaping the future of education together”

We encourage proposals that answer the question Where do we go from here? And address how educational researchers can help shape the future of education together. Additionally, we encourage proposals that critically reflect on what “together” means and examine issues through a diversity, equity, inclusion, and justice (DEIJ) lens. Although a connection to the conference theme is desired, it is not a requirement for proposal submissions.

Submission Review Process

- All NERA members will have an opportunity to vote on the short description of each workshop proposal (presenters' names will be removed from descriptions).
- The short descriptions will be sent to NERA members and selections made based on members' interest; no specific criteria will be given.
 - Please keep this in mind when writing workshop descriptions.

- o By allowing the NERA membership to vote on the most desired workshop topics, we are ensuring that there will be optimal attendance at the workshops during the conference.
- Next, the conference chairs will select workshops based on votes and topics addressed to provide a balance of offerings.
- Workshop proposal decisions will be emailed by July 15th. Details about workshop session dates and times will follow when the program is finalized late summer.
- Please note: Although you do not have to be a member to propose a workshop, you must become a member if your workshop proposal is accepted to present at the NERA annual conference.
